

LODLF Fall 2012 Scholarship Recipients

7916 Ranchitos Lp NE
Albuquerque, New Mexico
87113

Please visit our website:
www.losojosdelafamilia.org

CJ Lucero

CJ is a student currently at New Mexico Tech, but taking summer courses at CNM transferring to UNM in the fall. He has maintained a 3.0 GPA, and given several hours of community service. We were happy to help him with another $500 toward school.

Keyonna Moore

Keyonna just graduated from Pojoaque Valley High School, with excellent grades, who has participated in many volunteer community groups such as FCCLA (Family, Career & Community Leaders of America), Northern NM Youth & Families Against Drugs, and National Honor Society. She wants to earn a nursing degree, and learn a bit about journalism. LODLF gave her a $500 scholarship.

Paul Nuanes

Paul is an honors graduate of Valley High School, with a final GPA of 4.2. He has participated in community groups like American Cancer Society's Relay for Life, and the Rio Grande Educational Collaborative. He is attending UNM and is working toward a degree in Dentistry. We gave him $500 to help with school.

Ashley Lober

Ashley recently graduated from Albuquerque High School, with a GPA of 3.81. She has been accepted into the School of Engineering at Oklahoma State University. She participated in two professional business organizations as well as the Varsity and 5th Dimension Cheer Programs; she has also volunteered at LODLF fundraising events. We awarded her $500.

Monica Serna

Monica is a student at UNM, maintaining excellent grades in her pursuit of her Chemistry degree. She has been a regular volunteer at her church, through hospital shadowing in her youth group; and she regularly participates in LODLF. We were happy to award her with another $500 for school.

Alicia Candelaria

Alicia is a junior in college, working toward a career in nursing. She has volunteered for Corrales Elementary and Manzano de Sol nursing home, as well as for LODLF at the fall carnival. We gave her $500 toward her degree in nursing.

Magali Leyva

Magali is a student at UNM, recently transferred from CNM with good grades, studying History. She has participated in many community groups and clubs, and volunteers for church and community events. She has recently suffered from multiple health problems, and she lives on her own, but she continues to work to provide for herself. We were happy to help her with $500 toward school.